

JOB OPENING FOR 2022-2023

Full-time Science Teacher

Georgetown Visitation Preparatory School invites applications for a full-time position as a teacher in the Science Department for the 2022-2023 academic year. Located in Washington, DC, and founded in 1799, Georgetown Visitation Preparatory School educates young women in grades 9 – 12 in a faith-centered community focused on educational excellence and rooted in the Roman Catholic faith and Salesian tradition.

Successful candidates will have a strong academic background in biology and/or environmental science and previous teaching experience in the subject areas at the secondary level, along with energy, enthusiasm, and the ability to communicate and engage young women to deepen their understanding of science and foster inquiry. Experience with College Board Advanced Placement coursework is valued, but not required. Candidates must also be willing to work closely with departmental colleagues in a collaborative setting and to attend school-wide events and regular departmental and faculty meetings. Bachelor's degree in a related field is required; a Master's degree is preferred.

Georgetown Visitation Preparatory School provides equal employment opportunities (EEO) to all employees and applicants without regard to their age, color, disability status, national or ethnic origin, race, religion, sex, veteran status, or any other class protected by state or federal law. As a Catholic school, Georgetown Visitation Preparatory School reserves the right to use religion as a hiring criterion for selected positions, as permitted by law. Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

Proof of vaccination is required for this position.
